

Average income with valid effort from 1 to 6 months.

Keep in mind that the table above is a passive income. For example when you have reached an income level of R12000pm and you stop working you will keep on earning R12000pm for some time afterwards. For as long as the debit orders instructions that are allocated to you are active you will receive the money month after month by doing nothing at all.

It may happen that some of the debit order instructions that your worksheets have generated can become inactive over a while. This implies that from time to time you will have to submit a few worksheets again to keep you active debit order at the desired level of income.

The level of income that you want to achieve is totally up to you!
